

Quick tip

If you have an HD capable TV, the setup recommended for the best picture and sound quality is an HDMI cable. The blue light labeled HD on your set top box will light up when you are watching an HD program.